

Andy Hopper Bio

Andy Hopper owns a small farm in Wise County and serves as a Warrant Officer in the Texas State Guard. He has a master's degree in Computer Science, has taught as an adjunct professor at UNT, and holds a US patent. Andy has worked in the private sector and defense industry as a software engineer for the last twenty-three years and currently owns a software consulting firm. Andy and his wife, Amanda, have homeschooled their three sons and helped found Wise County Conservatives. Andy ran for Texas Senate in the SD 30 special election in the Fall of 2020 and, even though he lost, he met many amazing Texans which fueled his passion to save Texas from federal overreach.
